Argent prepares for regional expansion

Argent Liability Adjusters is preparing for further regional growth with a move to larger premises in Leeds. Argent, which is part of the Parabis group, is gearing up for a period of sustained growth over the coming months, fuelled by client demand across all of its UK offices. This announcement follows the recent appointment in London of market leading adjuster Rowena Byrne-Jones to enhance its capability in the Major & Complex Loss market.

Argent has achieved 350% growth throughout the business since it began trading in 2003. The firm plans to continue increasing its physical presence in regional markets across the UK over the coming years, and the North will form a key part of this strategy. The new Leeds office will be based at 4 Airport West, Lancaster Way, Leeds, LS19 7ZA.

Commenting on the move, Managing Director Neil Ventris said:

“There’s a real appetite for specialist liability adjusting on a national scale and we relish responding to that demand. We continue to attract talented individuals who want to work with a firm that focuses on technical expertise and our new Leeds office will help us to accommodate more of those specialists in the North. ”
